Laptop screen size in tutorial rooms

Sometimes your laptop’s screen resolution will be different from the setting on the projector. This means what you see on the monitor won’t “fit” the projected display correctly, resulting in portions disappearing off to the side of the screen.

Windows 7

1. To fix this, decrease your screen resolution. First, right click on the desktop and select Screen resolution

2. Select monitor 1 or 2 if you have multiple displays and change the resolution to 1024x768 or higher.
